Asians Against Violence is a division of the Asian Alliance for Health, Inc (AAFH). Asians Against Violence (AAV), formerly known as the Asian Alliance Against Domestic Violence, has led the work for over 15 years in raising awareness and helping to educate San Francisco's Asian communities on violence and abuse prevention in a culturally appropriate manner. Through community membership and collaborative efforts, AAV seeks to prevent violence and abuse in the Asian American population and create a platform for open conversation with the Asian communities in regards to violence and abuse. AAV partners with our community and support their modes of learning through our outreach programs.
